LEAD NOW!

Speaker: Luke DeWald

Location: DC 102

Leaders develop perspective, character, strategies, relationships, and focus their mission as they lead. If you are here to be a future leader, why not practice now? Let's talk about opportunities to serve, learn, and grow now through Student Body Leadership.

USING CURRICULUM WELL

Speaker: Dr. Tom Graham

Location: OM 212

How do you choose and use curriculum for your local church ministry? Whether it be for Sunday School or an Adult Bible Study, selecting an appropriate curriculum is important for evangelism, discipleship, and overall spiritual formation. Come and learn what you should look for when making this important decision.

DEFENDING AGAINST DANGER

Speaker: Chief Dave Brower & Sergeant Jon Caucutt
(Watertown Police Department)

Location: DC 115

Some dangers approach suddenly in a physical way—trust that “spidey sense” and take defensive action. Other dangers entice gradually with tempting suggestions and too-good-to-be-true promises. Preparation will help you do the right thing.

THE COMMON RULE

Speaker: Dr. Mike Zwolanek

Location: DC 122

We live in a very noisy world, and sometimes those noises drown out God's voice. Justin Whitmel Earley's book, The Common Rule: Habits of Purpose for an Age of Distraction, proposes some habits we can build into our lives to help us hear God better, and, in turn, love God and love our neighbors better.

GRACE WILL LEAD ME HOME

Speaker: Emily Haynes

Women Only*

Location: DC 116

How should believers think about God and suffering in this present world? Scripture has much to say about our good, present, and working God—even (especially!) in a fallen, suffering world.

STAND TOGETHER IN THE EVIL DAY

Speaker: Ben Flegal

Location: Fine Arts Hall

For many, even the word “accountability” leaves a sour taste in their mouth, which often results from a wrong view of what it is. This workshop will answer the question: What is the biblical basis for accountability, and how should it work out in daily life?
